George Dixon's Sad Finish.

New York, Jan. 6. -The greatest fighter of his time, and the winner of several hundred fistic encounters, George Dixon, the negro pugilist, familiarly called "Little Chocolate," died to-day in the alcoholic ward of Bellevue hospital, a victim of a long fight with drink. Idolized in his prime by thousands, as a pugilistic hero, George Dixon passed away penniless and without friends. Dixon was 37 years old and for many years held the title of feather-weight champion.

Like jockeys champion fighters reap the golden harvest of shekels when things are coming their way, but invariably die in "extreme poverty." George Dixon fought longer, engaged in more fights than any other man of his weight in the world and met exactly the same finish-death from dissipation and pennilessness. Two years ago when "Little Chocolate" was stranded here he said that he had engaged in more than 500 fights, and earned more than $500,000 in wagers and purses during the twenty years he was at the game. Dixon had a real manager, Tom O'Rourke by name, and it was this same O'Rourke who profited by Dixon's willing hands. He simply gave Dixon what he wanted to and "Little Chocolate" never complained.

Dead in a Useless Panic

Barnsley, York, England, Jan. 11.—The senseless stampede of a crowd of persons in a theater of this city resulted today in a shocking disaster. Sixteen persons, including a number of children in arms, were crushed to death by the frantic effort of the crowd to get out of the building, and many others were injured.

The panic absolutely was without reason. There was no danger, no fire, only the unaccountable panic of the crowd that found its egress from the theater hampered by its number.

There had been a performance for children at Harvey institute. The hall was crowded to its utmost capacity, and many persons had been refused admittance at the the door. At the conclusion of the performance an inexplicably mad rush was made for the exits, and it was there that the fearful and fatal crush occurred. The weaker went to the ground and were trampled to death by the stronger. Lives were crushed out and limbs were broken by the frantic people as they struggled and fought to make their way to the open. There was no need of haste. Order and calm and self control would have permitted everybody to get out of the hall safely.

Against Local Option

Rose Valley, Jan. 13, 1908.

In my view local option is like trying to kill a snake and beginning at its tail. As long as spirits are manufactured those wanting it will get it, even if they have to swear to lies to do so. Local option or prohibition does not stop a drunkard from drinking but it stops the revenue from the sale of it. It throws thousands of people out of employment who make their living in that line and there are millions of bushels of grain used up for that purpose that must find some other source of deposit and those people who are now consumers must become producers. What is to become of the surplus? They allow it to be used as medicine. Well, if it is good for medicine, why not allow a man to take a dose of it at will? I can not favor local option.

Footpads Get $20,000.

Belleville, Kan., January 11. J. C. Lynch of Phillipsburg, Kan., reported to the authorities here this morning that he had been assaulted and robbed of $8000 in cash and checks and notes to the value of $12,000. The robbery, he said, occurred near the depot and was the work of two men.

Lynch has been the owner of two general stores, one in Phillipsburg and the other in Norton, Kan. He sold these stores yesterday and had the proceeds in his pocket and was on his way to Kansas City to pay some bills at whole sale houses. He boarded Rock Island train No. 40 at Phillipsburg about 11 o'clock last night. The train arrived here about 4 o'clock and stopped fifteen minutes for breakfast. The lunchroom is across

Don't Neglect It

It is a serious mistake to neglect a weak heart. It is such a short step to chronic heart disease. When you notice irregularity of action, occasional short breath, palpitation, fluttering, pain in chest or difficulty in lying on left side, your heart needs help—a strengthening tonic. There is no better remedy than Dr. Miles' Heart Cure. Its strengthening influence is felt almost at once.

"I have used 10 bottles of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and can truthfully say it has done me more good than anything I have ever used, and I have tried nearly everything that I know of. The doctor who attended me asked me what I was taking and I told him Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, he said it was not going to do me any good, but it did. I have not taken any for a year now, and while there is occasionally a slight symptom of the old trouble, it is not enough for me to continue the use of the medicine. If I should get worse I would know what to do. Take Dr. Miles' Heart Cure as I did before, I consider myself practically cured of my heart trouble." S. H. DUNNAN, Livingston, Tenn.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails he will refund your money. Write to Dr. W. C. Rorer, Elkhart, Ind.

Bad Backache

Such agonies as some women suffer, every month, from backache!

Is it necessary? No. It can be prevented and relieved, when caused by female trouble, by taking a medicine with specific, corrective action, on the female organs and functions, which relieves the congestion, relieves the pain and builds the system and functions up to a proper state of health. Try.

WINE OF CARDUI WOMAN'S RELIEF

"I suffered for 15 years," writes Mrs. Malinda A. Akers, of Basham, Va., "with various female troubles. I had such a backache that it drew me over, so I could not stand straight. The doctors could not help me, so I took Cardui, and now I feel like a new woman."

the tracks and some distance away. Lynch says that as he was passing a freight car he was struck a heavy blow on the jaw and was then seized around the throat and choked. The robbers, he said, dragged him behind a freight car and searched his pockets.

Lynch's face is bruised and his clothing is torn and dirty, as if he had been dragged on the ground. The porter of the train says he heard Lynch call, and he also believes he saw two men drop off the train just as it drew up to the Belleville depot.

Wife Demanded City Home

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 10.

Is a demand of a wife that her husband leave a small town and provide her with a home in a large city a reasonable request? This question must be decided by the District Court in Minneapolis, in the divorce suit of Harry Harris, 42 years old, against Ella Harris, 23.

In his complaint, Harris asserts he and his wife were living in Sedalia, Mo., when his wife left him. Later she wrote saying she would return to him if he would secure employment and provide her a home in Chicago or St. Louis. Otherwise, she said, she would not return. Harris did not comply with his wife's request and he asserts she never returned to Sedalia.

The Rumseller's Portrait.

I will paint you a picture, Rumseller, And hang it over your door, A truer and better likeness Than ever you had made before.

I will paint with the skill of a master And many will pause to see This wonderful piece of painting So much like the reality.

I will paint you true, Rumseller As you wait for that fair young boy Just on the threshold of manhood, His mother's pride and joy.

He has no thought of drinking. But you greet him with a smile And you seem so gay and friendly He pauses to chat awhile.

I will paint you again, Rumseller, I will show you as you stand Holding a glass of liquor Sparkling in either hand.

He Wavers, but you urge him Drink, pledge me, just this one, And he lifts the glass and drains it, And your hellish work is done.

Now I will paint a drunkard, Only one year has flown Yet into this loathsome creature, This fair young boy is grown.

Your work was sure and rapid. And now prostrate he lies In a death like drunken stupor Under the wintry skies.

I paint the form of the mother As she kneels by her darlings side Her beautiful boy was dearer Than all the wide world besides.

I will paint as she leans o'er his coffin And the tears pour o'er his white face

But I cannot paint her emotions Nor can I paint your disgrace.

I can paint the shape of his coffin And label it with one word, LOST, But it will take all of eternity To show what that first drink cost.

The sin and the shame and the sorrow The crime and the want and the woe That were born there in your rumshop No hand can paint that you know.

To what I have painted you're welcome Give a copy to all of your friends, Especially your master, old Satan To prove your affection for him.
